

Feline Senior Semi-Annual Visits

The American Animal Hospital Association, by which we are accredited, recommends twice -yearly examinations for pets. Pets age faster than their human counterparts. Our veterinarians help you keep your cat healthy throughout their lifetime by these bi-annual visits. By examining them more than once a year, they are more likely to “catch” issues that may go unnoticed. Thorough examinations are one of the most important things veterinarians do for your cat. In them, they look from nose to tail, looking for any issues your cat may have. Catching and treating most issues early can either help to cure them completely or manage them successfully, making your cat healthier and more comfortable throughout his or her life. A blood chemistry and CBC (Complete Blood Count) assist your veterinary in diagnosing and treating any conditions found before they can become clinical. As a senior pet, your cat will be experiencing changes as they age. Special screenings have been included in their semi-annual wellness exam in order to explore issues common to our senior felines. Again, early detection usually equals better health and comfort for your senior companion.

A Feline Senior Semi-Annual Wellness visit includes:

• Wellness examination*	$ 68.50
• Intestinal parasite screening	$ 33.72
• Semi-annual blood screening (Chemistry And CBC (Complete Blood Count)	$ 170.93
• Senior thyroid profile	$ 87.10
• Sr. Urinalysis w/cytology	$ 85.95
• Senior blood pressure screen	$ 45.84
• Topical deworming (if due – price depends on weight)
• Heartworm, flea & tick prevention
• Hazardous waste disposal	$ 5.98
TOTAL	$ 498.02

*Any due (or overdue) vaccinations, treatments or diagnostics are additional and will be discussed with you before they are performed.

Heartworm, flea and tick topical deworming products are dispensed based upon the weight of the cat and are, therefore, not included in the total cost. AHS recommends ALL cats stay on heartworm, flea & tick prevention year-round for the health and safety of your cat and your family.